Discussion

What travel trend are you most curious about — citywalk, glamping, or revenge travel? Why?

How would you plan a digital-detox weekend trip without using your phone?

Try to describe a citywalk route you would take in your own city. What would you show a friend?

What is your opinion of "last-chance tourism" — visiting a place before it disappears?

Would you rather take a slow month-long trip or a fast three-day trip? What would each feel like?

What would you include in a bleisure trip — a work trip with a few extra days for yourself?

How would you convince a friend to try glamping instead of a normal hotel for one night?

Which travel buzzword do you think will be popular in 2026, and why?
