Workplace Etiquette

Respect and Courtesy

Treat everyone with respect, whatever their job title.

Listen actively: keep eye contact and don't interrupt.

Show empathy — try to see things from their side.

Respect personal space and privacy.

Avoid gossip and negative talk.

Communication

Be clear, concise, and polite, in speech and in writing.

Use appropriate language — no slang or rude words.

Reply to emails and messages promptly.

Proofread before you send.

Write clear subject lines and proper greetings.

Professionalism and Appearance

Follow the dress code and look neat.

Keep good personal hygiene.

Keep your workspace clean and tidy.

Be on time for work and meetings.

Meetings and Shared Spaces

Arrive on time and ready to take part.

Put your phone away and stay on the agenda.

Clean up after yourself in the kitchen.

Keep your voice down near other people's desks.

Teamwork

Share credit for good work.

Offer help to colleagues when they need it.

Work together toward shared goals.

Communication — Don'ts

Don't take personal calls on speaker in the open office.

Don't interrupt people while they're talking.

Don't spread rumors or talk badly about colleagues.

Don't ignore emails and messages — reply.

Don't hit "reply all" unless everyone needs to know.

Don't overshare personal details.

Don't use bad language.

Time and Boundaries — Don'ts

Don't show up late again and again.

Don't scroll your phone in meetings.

Don't micromanage — trust your team.

Don't take credit for someone else's work.

Shared Spaces — Don'ts

Don't leave a mess in shared areas.

Don't microwave strong-smelling food at lunch.

Don't forget to mute in online meetings.

Personal Habits — Don'ts

Don't skip basic hygiene.

Don't chew loudly.